- Definitely not running and likely plenty to do mechanically.
- I think all the major metal and glass parts are present and in one piece (including window glass).
- All the original seats and interior lining fabrics are long since broken down. (The blue seat covers are ones that Dad made about 30 years ago, they may be salvageable, unsure)
- The tyres and some rubber/plastic parts are as-new - he bought some items about 6 or 7 years ago.
